

FLORIDA RESIDENCY

How you know you have it, and what you may want to do if another state says you don't

This seminar provides information on income tax, homestead, and estate planning issues and guidance on how you may be able to reduce taxes, protect assets, and avoid pitfalls when moving from another state or maintaining dual residences.

Palm Beach, Florida

January 20, 2011
February 16, 2011

Boca Raton, Florida

January 20, 2011
February 17, 2011

This seminar is approved for 2 hours of technical business continuing professional education credit by the Florida Department of Business & Professional Regulation, Sponsor/Provider #0002615, Course #0005136, Exp. 9/27/13; 2.5 hours general CLER credits by The Florida Bar, Course #9047 9, Exp. 7/20/11; and pending approval by the CFP Board for 2 hours continuing education credit.

The hiring of a lawyer is an important decision that should not be based solely upon advertisements. Before you decide, ask us to send you free written information about our qualifications and experience. Prior results do not guarantee a similar outcome.

FLORIDA RESIDENCY

Our speakers will provide information about compliance with state residency rules. Unfortunately, many people have learned about these rules the hard way. With good intentions, they did all the things they thought they needed to do in order to take up residency outside of their old state—they filed affidavits of domicile in the new state, registered their automobiles in that state, obtained new driver's licenses, and registered to vote. Sounds like they did all the right things, right?

Wrong! Most people aren't aware that a residency determination is based on more than mere declarations or physical presence in the state. In a residency case, the burden of proof is on the taxpayer. Even after you've moved out of one state, if you maintain living quarters in that state and visit from time to time, you may still be considered a resident of that state for tax purposes.

Do you have significant non-Florida contacts? If you do, you may be a prime target for an audit, and you may benefit from this seminar.

This seminar will provide you with information on issues that may be beneficial in protecting your assets and avoiding pitfalls when moving out of a state or maintaining dual residences:

- ◆ New Residency and Allocation Issues
- ◆ Proactive Preparation for Nonresident Audits
- ◆ New Estate Tax Legislation: What Does It Mean?
- ◆ Florida: What's Different?
- ◆ What Is a Statutory Resident and Why Should You Care?
- ◆ Current Planning Techniques (Including an Update on Family Limited Partnerships)
- ◆ Protecting Your Assets and Reducing Tax on Transfers to Your Family
- ◆ Other Hot Topics

This seminar will also provide information on residency law for:

- ◆ Individuals With Dual Residences
- ◆ Non-Florida Residents
- ◆ In-House Tax Counsel
- ◆ Accountants
- ◆ Tax Managers
- ◆ Financial Planners
- ◆ Insurance Executives
- ◆ High-Net-Worth Individuals

Renaissance Boca Raton Hotel

2000 Northwest 19th Street, Boca Raton, Florida 33431 Tel. 561.368.5252 www.marriott.com

The Brazilian Court Palm Beach

301 Australian Avenue, Palm Beach, Florida 33480 Tel. 561.983.4292 www.thebraziliancourt.com

The Ritz-Carlton, Palm Beach

100 South Ocean Boulevard, Manalapan, Florida 33462 Tel. 561.533.6000 www.ritzcarlton.com

All facilities are wheelchair-accessible.

ABOUT THE SPONSOR

In addition to our Palm Beach office, we have offices in Buffalo, Albany, Johnstown, and New York, New York, and in Toronto, Ontario, Canada.

In addition to tax and estates and trusts, Hodgson Russ's practice includes corporate, mergers and acquisitions, securities, intellectual property, real estate, litigation, and most other areas of U.S. law.

The following Hodgson Russ practice areas may be of special interest to those attending the seminar:

State and Local Tax Issues

- ◆ Counseling clients in the areas of tax law, including residency, sales and use, corporate franchise, personal income, estate and gift, and allocation of income considerations, among others

Snowbird Considerations

- ◆ Advising high-net-worth new (or soon-to-be-new) Florida residents on tax issues arising from multistate lifestyles

Lobbying and Tax Planning

- ◆ Advocating for or against change in the tax laws and regulations before the legislature and Florida Tax Department and the New York State Department of Taxation and Finance
- ◆ Providing "early warning" services that alert clients to legislative and administrative developments
- ◆ Formulating overall state tax strategies, including planning and compliance techniques, as well as developing agendas for legislative action

Information for Accountants, Financial Planners, and Attorneys

- ◆ Providing information that may prove helpful in resolving or avoiding federal and state tax problems

Estates and Trusts Matters

- ◆ Structuring estate plans to try to minimize or avoid estate taxes
- ◆ Establishing and working with private foundations
- ◆ Setting up residence trusts (QPRTs), charitable trusts (CLATs or CRUTs), annuity trusts (GRATs), insurance trusts, and others
- ◆ Drafting "spendthrift" trusts
- ◆ Advising clients about living trusts and other probate-avoidance techniques to try to reduce costs of estate administration
- ◆ Preparing wills, trust agreements, family partnership agreements, and related documents
- ◆ Handling estate disputes through arbitration or litigation

While primary emphasis will be on New York's approach to residency issues, the concepts discussed are applicable throughout the United States.

For more information, contact Mandy Pickering at mpickeri@hodgsonruss.com

SPEAKERS

Paul R. Comeau is the chairman of Hodgson Russ and is based in our Palm Beach and New York City offices. He concentrates his practice in estate and tax planning, taxation law, business planning law, and business acquisitions law. He serves as co-editor of New York Tax Service, co-editor of New York Tax Cases, and co-chair of the Multistate Tax Committee of the New York State Bar Association Tax Section. He is co-author of CCH's New York Residency and Allocation Audit Handbook, and the NYSBA Contesting New York Tax Assessments. He is admitted to practice in Florida (1975) and in New York (1974).

Mark S. Klein has extensive federal, multistate, state, and local tax experience. He is a past instructor of state taxation and tax practice and procedure at the SUNY Buffalo School of Management Tax Certificate Program and is chair of the State and Local Taxation Section of the ACE Accounting Society. Mr. Klein is editor of New York Tax Highlights; contributing editor of CCH's Guidebook to New York Taxes; and co-author of CCH's New York Residency and Allocation Audit Handbook and the NYSBA Contesting New York Tax Assessments. Mr. Klein is admitted to practice in New York (1983), in Florida (1983), and before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Timothy P. Noonan concentrates his practice in state and local tax law with a focus on New York State and City tax issues. Mr. Noonan lectures frequently on New York State and multistate tax matters and is on the faculty of the Institute of Continuing Professional Education. He is the author of a monthly column, "Noonan's Notes on Tax Practice," in State Tax Notes, and he has written on state and local taxes for a number of U.S. and Canadian publications. Mr. Noonan is not a member of the Florida Bar. He is admitted to practice in New York.

Lisa C. Williams focuses her practice on advanced planning and family office matters, which entails serving as a general counsel to corporate executives, private business owners, professional athletes, and high-net-worth families and their family offices. Her areas of focus include the analysis, design, and drafting of advanced estate-planning trusts and structures. She is admitted to practice in Illinois (2006), Florida (2007), and Minnesota (2008).

Richard E. Heath has extensive experience structuring personal estate and business succession plans for owners of substantial privately held businesses and business interests and structuring the sale and purchase of businesses. He is a seasoned senior corporate, nonprofit, and tax attorney with considerable experience in a wide variety of complex matters. He is admitted to practice in New York (1957) and Florida (1974).

REGISTER TODAY

PLEASE CHECK THE SEMINAR YOU WOULD LIKE TO ATTEND.

- Thursday, January 20, 2011, Boca Raton, Renaissance Boca Raton Hotel, 2000 N.W. 19th Street, 9 to 11 a.m. (RSVP by January 13)
- Thursday, January 20, 2011, Palm Beach, The Brazilian Court Hotel, 301 Australian Avenue, 2 to 4 p.m. (RSVP by January 13)
- Wednesday, February 16, 2011, Palm Beach, The Ritz-Carlton, 100 South Ocean Boulevard, 2 to 4 p.m. (RSVP by February 9)
- Thursday, February 17, 2011, Boca Raton, Renaissance Boca Raton Hotel, 2000 N.W. 19th Street, 9 to 11 a.m. (RSVP by February 10)

- I cannot attend but would appreciate a phone call from a Hodgson Russ attorney.

These seminars are complimentary. Space is limited.

Please register early through our website, e-mail, mail, fax, or by phone:

Mandy Pickering at Hodgson Russ LLP

450 Royal Palm Way, 6th Floor, Palm Beach, Florida 33480

mpickeri@hodgsonruss.com • Tel: 561.862.4100 • Fax: 561.862.4120

www.hodgsonruss.com

Name: _____

Company: _____

Title: _____

Address: _____

City/State/Zip: _____

E-mail: _____

(Please provide e-mail. Confirmations will be e-mailed to all attendees.)

Phone/Fax: _____

Names of additional people attending: _____

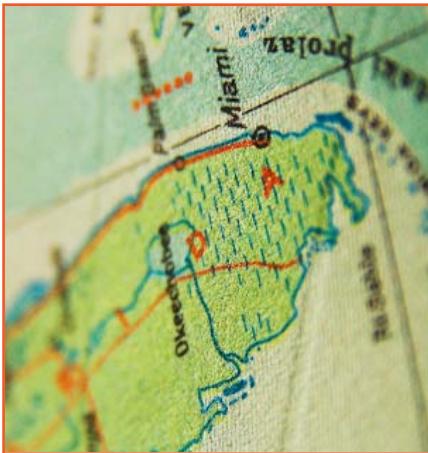

License # (for CPE): _____

Hodgson RUSS

ATTORNEYS LLP

450 Royal Palm Way, 6th Floor
Palm Beach, Florida 33480

FLORIDA RESIDENCY

How you know you have it, and what you may want to do if another state says you don't

Advertisement